Founded more than 25 years ago by co-founders Gary S. Gray and John J. Duffy, Gray•Duffy, LLP has grown to include a diverse team with offices in Encino and the Bay Area. The firm works with a variety of business and commercial clients—whether they are starting a new business or looking for ways to grow their existing business. They also handle all phases of acquisition, development and operations on behalf of residential, commercial and industrial property owners, tenants and lenders. The attorneys at Gray•Duffy have a breadth of experience litigating cases to trial in the state and federal courts, as well as resolving matters through alternative dispute resolution, including arbitration and mediation.

What would you like potential clients to know about you?
